

Asleep, awake, and ready for anything, the koalas cared for by wildlife carer Peter Douglas present their most adorable faces to the camera in these priceless shots, taken over a thirty-year period. Under Douglas watchful eye, koalas were photographed in all manner of settings, protected from pet status yet allowed to display their unique curiosity for the delight of observers. Unseen by the general public, these pictures, accompanied by famous, witty one-liners, will make you smile and laugh as they demonstrate yet again the irresistible nature of Australia's most beloved marsupial. Also included are some of the most renowned Qantas ads (1967 - 1992) featuring koalas, which became the longest-running ad campaign in US history.
