

Landscape Photography Tips: Follow along as I go on a shoot and edit my shots.

I set off into the wilderness with the camera and simply started to take photos. I have always had an interest in photography and as smart phone technology improved I started off as an iPhone-ographer. As I grew and got better with my smart phone photography I started to take the role as a second photographer with my wife at weddings. She handed me the d90 and off I went. Of course, once the wedding was over I was off into the wild with the camera. This is how I get some of the shots I do. There are three case studies here and I will be publishing more as time goes on.
